SPECIAL NOTICES.

Don't Forget it.

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisons arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Prairie Flower proves itself the great liver panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, twenty-five cents and seventy-five cents. For sale by our druggists, OSBORN & SHOEMAKER. au7 eod

SPEAK UP.

The danger which threatened Reno has passed away. The pestilent fellows who seem to have gained the ascendancy in the Workingmen's party have been rapped over the knuckles in a way that they will not be likely to forget. Every good citizen must rejoice that our town has been saved from a disgrace that would have attracted the attention of the whole country had there been an attempt to carry out the threats uttered at the meeting of Sunday night. The Workingmen's party has not, so far, made any official disclaimer of responsibility for those threats, and until that is done people will surely hold the party as approving of the spirit of lawlessness and riot. Those who publicly engineered that meeting were promptly given to understand, in a manner that could not be mistaken, what the consequences would be to themselves should their idiotic threatenings show any signs of ripening into action. Only the energy and determination of the respectable citizens of the town saved us from riot. The Workingmen's party can take no credit for having shared in the maintenance of law and order. Its officers have remained silent. Its executive committee met in secret and kept its conclusions from the public. It rests with that party, or that part of it which is not in sympathy with ruffianism, to convince the citizens of Reno that hereafter it would not be fair and prudent to consider a member of that party a man that should be watched by the police. Matters must not be minced. The meeting of Sunday night has not been repudiated officially by the Workingmen's party. If that party wishes to satisfy the people that it was not responsible for the meeting, or, at least, does not approve of the things said there, let the officers of the party say so.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Kearney, in his speech at Faneuil Hall, in eulogizing Butler, spoke of him as "that fiery and incomparable Rupert of debate, that chivalrous and white-plumed Navarre of the rostrum, the gallant, gifted, glorious Butler," which moved the New York Times to smile and attribute the high flown passage to some friendly reporter. Kearney cribbed the compliment from Bob Ingersoll's address when proposing Blaine as a Presidential candidate at the Cincinnati convention. The San Francisco Chronicle grows merry over the fact that the Times called the words "foolish nonsense." Says the Chronicle: "It evidently makes a great deal of difference to the Times from whose lips high-flown expressions come. At one time they are eloquent, at another nonsensical." Indeed it does. Coming from Ingersoll in a magnificent flood of language, that sort of sentence was not out of tune; but sandwiched between Dennis' brogue-laden blackguardism, it had all the effect of a silk patch on a pair of corduroys or an honest editorial on the Chronicle's second page.

The Eastern press has descended upon Dennis Kearney, and the fur is flying in all directions. The papers have discovered that California's greatest production is a bombastic, conceited, ignorant fool, crazy on the subject of himself, without ideas, and as coarse, profane and violent as the ordinary drunk in the calaboose. This is a nice way to talk of a man who bulldosed the people and press of San Francisco for a whole year, defied the authorities, and actually caused the Call to lose more than a thousand subscribers. He is a great man, is Dennis Kearney. If you don't believe it, ask Dennis Kearney or the San Francisco Chronicle. The press can't have a meaner opinion of Dennis than Dennis has of the press. From what they have so far seen of one another, perhaps both are justified in their opinions.

D. Dalziel, formerly proprietor of the San Francisco Mail, brought out a play in New York lately, and the Spirit of the Times said the audience that attended it was "too small to be out alone" so late at night. Dalziel stole the play from a poor Bohemian in Australia, and although he is incapable of writing a sentence of decent English, palmed it off as his own, and was properly punished. He is now taking tickets at the door for the Lingards, one of whom, Miss Dickie, is unlucky enough to be the wife of the little fraud.

Our fearless contemporary, the Journal, has discovered that there is something worth examining into in the matter of the Ricard jury, and calls upon Judge Wright to explain. One has to be up very early in the morning to get ahead of such an enterprising newspaper as the Journal It finds out things amazingly quick. It isn't like some journals that lie back behind a bank of silence while another newspaper does the fighting and then comes out with a feeble little hurrah on the side of the victor. That isn't the kind of a paper the Journal is. Ever bold, out-spoken and prompt to condemn wrong, even at the loss of patronage, the Journal is a contemporary that the GAZETTE is proud of.

There are not a few army officers, the Washington Star thinks, who really believe that the government is anxious for the occasion to pursue an aggressive policy toward Mexico. The people living on this bank of the Rio Grande would doubtless like to know what the government would call an occasion that suited it. If the government got a Mexican bullet in its body every other day or so and saw the greaser that fired the same riding off on its horse with neatness and dispatch, it would probably find is had more occasion than was comfortable.

If there is any place on top of ground where the wholesome truths of Democracy are needed to purify the political atmosphere, that place is among the sham reformers of Washoe county.—Eureka Sentinel.

No doubt; and if there is any Democrat on top of ground who needs to be instructed in the wholesome truths of common honesty, that man is the pledge-breaker of Eureka, a person who carries his conscience in his pocket and his brains in his cheek.

SIMMOND'S NABOB WHISKY.

A GREAT REMEDY.

SIMMOND'S

NABOB

— FOR —

Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Nervousness.

The Purest and Best

— FOR ALL —

Medicinal and Family Purposes.

HAS BEEN SOLD IN ALL THE EASTERN STATES AND GIVEN UNIVERSAL satisfaction It is highly recommended by the Faculty for all cases of Nervousness, Weakness, Debility, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc.

It is now introduced to the public of the Pacific Slope, endorsed by certificates of the eminent DR. J. HAYES, State Assayer of Massachusetts, and DR. H. C. LOUDERBACK of St. Louis, Mo., both gentlemen prominent in their profession, and which is a guaranty to all buyers of its purity and quality.

I can show thousands of letters from private persons, from all parts of the Union and Canada, to testify to its merits and the benefit it has afforded, as a family remedy and tonic.

Dyspepsia is called the national disease of this country, and many reasons why have been given. It is frequently said that people work too much, eat too fast, sleep too little, tax the powers of nerve and brain too incessantly, drink too much ice water, eat too much hot bread, smoke too much tobacco, give way to too much excitement, and consequently play themselves out in the shortest possible time. "A short life and a merry one" seems to be the sentiment that chiefly influences a large number of persons, but for all that no person feels at ease when suffering in health. Now, however, much or little truth should be attached to the opinion of physicians who charge the great prevalence of dyspepsia and nervousness to any of the causes mentioned, it cannot be denied that there are some applications received by druggists throughout the country for medicines to relieve and cure stomach and nervous pains and disorders, and all other maladies that afflict frail humanity. As might be expected under the circumstances, a large number of specifics to successfully counteract these diseases have been introduced to the attention of the public, but nearly all of them have failed to do any good. Whenever, therefore, any alleged new remedial agent is spoken of, very little confidence is felt in it by reason of numerous past disappointments, so that people who are chronic sufferers from dyspepsia, indigestion, physical weakness, or nervousness almost despaired of being cured They, however, take too despondent a view of the matter, for those who have used the celebrated NABOB WHISKY, which can be had from all respectable druggists and grocers, know by experience that it is a sure remedy for all the maladies referred to, and that its tonic properties are of the most strengthening character. Many persons who found it impossible to properly digest a single meal, and whose physique had been sadly attenuated, have derived immediate benefit from the NABOB WHISKY, and in a short time, by its regular use, regained all their health and strength. It can be taken with impunity, as no drugs are incorporated with it, and its healthy action on the human system is at once felt. The effect which it produces on the organs of the stomach is such as to create a vigorous appetite and render digestion easy, no matter what the habits of the sufferer may be, and it at the same time steadies the nerves and stimulates the brain. There are no fictitious claims for the great remedial agent, so that all persons who are troubled with dyspepsia or nervousness would be false to themselves if they failed to test its curative qualities. Its sale is rapidly on the increase, and the better it is known the more it is used.

CALEDONIAN PICNIC.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the third annual Caledonian Picnic and celebration of games to be held at Captain Dall's Grove, near Franktown, on Saturday next, the 10th inst. It will be the event of the season in the picnic line, and the various Scottish games will be on a grander scale than anything yet attempted by the Virginia Caledonian Club. The prizes to be competed for will aggregate in value over $800; for, in addition to the prizes awarded to the various athletic games, there are two handsome prizes to be competed for by the ladies at the archery target, and also a handsome sterling silver vase, which will be awarded to the best military rifle team of Storey county and vicinity. There will be three of the best bands of music in the State in attendance, and, in fact, no expense has been spared to make it the most enjoyable gathering of the season. It is understood that Senator Jones and other local celebrities will be present on that occasion. There will be a special train attached to the through train for Virginia City for the accommodation of those who desire to go from this city, and the fare is fixed at $2 for the round trip—children under 10 years of age, $1. A member of the Caledonian Club will be at the Arcade House on Friday evening, who will act as conductor to the Reno portion of the excursion. We again urge our citizens to attend this celebration and the gathering of the clans o' Scotia. We have been informed that last year the Renoites captured four of the prizes which were then competed for, and we believe that our athletes will do even better this year. Remember the time—Saturday morning by the through train which leaves Reno shortly after 7 o'clock. *3t

Inducements to Immigrants.

A Hartford, Connecticut young man with a small capital (young men of large capital never write to the GAZETTE) inquires by mail what the inducements are for immigration to this region. In reply it may be stated without fear of successful contradiction that there are many. In the first place, the GAZETTE is only $10 a year (invariably in advance); we have railroad communication with the East and West, a good agricultural country surrounding us, with a promising prospect of being a supply depot for a flourishing mining region; there are fewer dogs in Reno than in any town of its size in Nevada; the girls are plentiful, and prettier than any other sage-brush settlement can raise; poker is played on the square and the WEEKLY GAZETTE is sold at the shamefully low price of $2 50 per year. A young man with a small capital could not do better than to come to Reno. He might as well lose it here as elsewhere. An introduction to the GAZETTE reporter will be thrown in free of charge.

An Insulted Clergyman.

Rev. A. Drahms, of Reno, has brought suit against the V. & T. R. R. Co. for $10,000 damages. The reverend gentleman some days ago bought a ticket for himself and wife for Virginia, and laid over at Carson for several days. The conductor refused to take the lay-over checks when the journey was resumed, on the ground that their value had expired, and put Mr. Drahms and his wife off the train at Empire. Hence the suit.

A Heavy Sentence.

The Chinaman who chose Mark Parish's house for a target yesterday while practicing with his pistol, and came within an ace of killing the gentleman's wife, was tried in Judge Richardson's Court this morning and fined $30, with the alternative of going to jail for fifteen days. The Chinaman was observed to turn pale and tremble when his fate was made known to him.

TOO MANY TRAMPS.

Citizens Meet to Abate the Nuisance

A Gathering of Representative Renoites To-day—Some Strictures Upon Town and County Officers—No More Foolishness to be Allowed.

Ever since the news of the incendiary meeting of Sunday night last has been sent abroad tramps have been flocking into town, hoping to pick up plunder in the riot they have naturally hoped to see happen. Last night members of the Safety Committee patrolling the streets gave about a dozen bad characters sharp notice to leave town, among them Jack Weiss, the young tough who was discharged yesterday in Justice Richardson's court on a charge of having garroted a man. This same Weiss, watchman Ross informed a GAZETTE reporter on Monday, had fired Chinatown. Watchman Ross had seen him do it, and told the reporter Weiss was in jail for it. Suffering from a plethora of such toughs as Weiss, (and such watchmen as Ross who was not, it seems, arrested for arson), the best citizens of Reno held a meeting at the Academy of Music to-day, to see what could be done to protect the town. The citizens are getting somewhat weary of marching around all night to save their property from thieves and firebugs, and are desirous that the officers who are paid to do that work should attend to it.

THE MEETING

was organized by the election of Frank Ball to the chair. Then there was a pause, owing to the non-arrival of some citizens who were expected, and C. C. Powning suggested that those present (nearly a hundred), should proceed to business.

W. R. Chamberlain said that it seemed to be the opinion of observing citizens that we are getting a large addition to our tramp element. He understood it was the object of this meeting to get rid of the tramps in the easiest and most rapid way. That pleased him, but even for so worthy an object he did not think it would be well to go outside of the law. By doing so the citizens would place themselves in the same position as the class of men they had been watching and backing against for the past few days. He did not think public sentiment would approve of any measure of that sort. There, seemed, however, to be a lack of vigilance on the part of our officers, both town and county. They needed to be stirred up to a sense of their duty. He moved, therefore, that a formal demand (not a request) be made upon our officers to arrest every man who had no visible means of support, and, upon conviction these fellows should be made to work and to sleep in the jail at night.

Mr. Powning seconded the motion, and offered an amendment that a committee of five be appointed to visit the officers and insist upon this action.

J. C. Lewis opposed the motion. The officers should do their duty without any insisting.

Mr. Chamberlain could see no way except that which he had suggested, except the formation of a vigilance committee, and he didn't think the town was prepared for anything of that sort. The Governor was here among us, and he had no discretion in such premises. He must put his foot down upon it. Such a step would put the respectable citizens in precisely the same position as the men who had been recently disturbing the town, although the object were a praiseworthy one.

Mr. Lewis was and ever had been opposed to mob law, but the citizens had a right to appoint a committee to request the Sheriff to deputise any number of persons to aid him in keeping the peace, and the citizens had a right to raise money to pay these deputies. He thought immediate action was necessary and that there was no use to try experiments. No suggestions to the officers could be stronger than their oaths of office.

Judge Webster agreed with Mr. Chamberlain. Officers are, in the nature of things, apt to become tardy and negligent, and a committee representing the substantial citizens of the community could do much to awaken them to a more active discharge of their duties. If the officers should prove to be unable to deal with the tramp problem, then the citizens could act for themselves on the principle that self-preservation is the first law of nature.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

entered the hall at this juncture and the chairman stated to him the object of the meeting. Mr. Cain said that Virginia, Gold Hill, Carson and towns of California could send us tramps faster than we could dispose of them. To take the proper course of law in disposing of them would bankrupt any county. They demand jury trials, juries are tender hearted and the law is loose. They generally escaped. There was complaint from the citizens that taxes are too high. However, if the community was willing to to bear the expense he would go ahead and prosecute. But there was always talk of making business for the sake of fees.

Mr. Chamberlain didn't think there was anything in the tender-hearted jury plea. There were lots of hard-hearted citizens who would serve as jurors willingly just about this time. As for the expense, he was a tax-payer and was quite willing to bear his share of the expense.

Judge Webster had never heard the people complain about legitimate fees. It was only about expenses outside the law that they growled about. They would back up the District Attorney in the discharge of his duty.

Mr. Waldo spoke of the number of men to be found sleeping in box cars, out-houses and haystacks. These should be given a place to sleep where there was no danger of fire. There should be no great difficulty in convicting them as vagrants, and when convicted they should be ornamented with a ball and chain.

Dr. Hutchins was in favor of dealing also with well-dressed bummers. He had seen many of them about town at all hours of the day and night. He presumed they were hangers-on of houses of prostitution. There was another class, of which the fellow who recently ran a lottery on our streets with the sale of soap as an excuse, who should be attended to.

United States Attorney Varian observed that the gentleman who had spoken before him seemed to agree upon the nature of the evil to be combatted. There also seemed to be an impression that the officers should deal with it. But this was an emergency. Hundreds of objectionable persons were infesting the community, and the force of officers had not been increased. He suggested that a committee of from twelve to twenty prominent citizens be appointed, with instructions from the meeting to take notice of these objectionable characters, and to make complaint of them to the District Attorney, and have warrants issued for their arrest. It wouldn't do to wait for an officer to swear to the complaint.

The District Attorney thought this suggestion hit the nail right on the head. Let the citizens come forward and make complaint. About the police court it was freely said that there are three or four white men who could throw a flood of light upon the firing of Chinatown, but they hold back.

Judge Gilson said that men arrested under the Vagrancy Act are not usually the sort that care about going to jail. The Sheriff has power to put them in the chain gang. Those who have friends will pay their fines under these circumstances, and those who haven't will get a lesson that will keep them from returning to Reno.

Ike Chamberlain had a full knowledge of how prisoners were treated at the jail. Those who were taken out to work and didn't like it could run away. They usually preferred to do the light labor required, and return at night to enjoy the good grub and comfortable lodging provided. They were fed quite as well as anybody.

Mr. Varian wanted to know if there was any law compelling prisoners in the county jail to live on roast beef.

Mr. Chamberlain was not aware of any such legal outrage, but he knew that they were treated altogether too well.

W. R. Chamberlain had observed that in the treatment of prisoners sentences of the Justice were altogether too light, and that the Sheriff and Constable treated the prisoners as if they were pets more than anything else.

THE RESULT.

After some more discussion a committee was appointed to demand of the officers of the law a more energetic discharge of their duty in respect of vagrants. The committee was also instructed to keep an eye out for bad characters, and to cause complaints to be made out against them. It would then be seen that the arrested parties were vigorously prosecuted. The meeting then adjourned.

JIM AND MARY.

A Piute Family Quarrel of the Liveliest Kind.

Last evening about 7 o'clock there was an interesting revelation of the domestic manners and customs of the first families of Reno. A Piute squaw, young, buxom, and as good-looking as a squaw can be, began to quarrel at Earl's depot with her buck, a gentleman in a flannel shirt and plug hat with a feather in it. After exchanging views on each other's failings, the buck seized the young squaw by her stout, black hair and dragged her to her knees. There was a lively scuffle for a minute and then both rolled from the platform to the street. The lady went at her lord tooth and nail, scratched him well, and in return had her clothes torn from her down to the waist, exposing a copper plate illustration of such interest that at least fifty white men, filled with artistic interest, hurried to the ground. A dozen bucks sat upon the edge of the platform and grinned steadily, while as many excited squaws cantered to and fro, chattering in great excitement. The woman got the best of it, and holding up with one hand the few rags that remained to her, chased her enraged husband several yards and clawed him so well as to receive a round of hearty applause from the spectators. The dusky female just at the point of complete victory showed the usual inconsistency of her sex, white, black and Dolly Varden, and turned round and fled. This was a good chance for manhood to assert itself, and Jim gave pursuit, caught his wife by the back hair, and throwing her down, dragged her several feet. Some white men were about to interfere, but several married men shouted to let them alone. Poor Mary was vanquished, and, almost entirely naked, gave in. A friendly squaw threw her a calico skirt which, while she sobbed and squealed, she threw over her pretty shoulders and then allowed James to drive her off to their wickiup, where, no doubt, she was properly lodge-poled. As the pair disappeared, a GAZETTE reporter heard a well-known citizen, who has a large family, sigh and murmur to himself: "By gosh, I'd like to give that Injun a drink."

"ONLY FOOLIN',"

Were Workingmen White and His Fellow Incendiaries.

Workingman White and his brother scamps now explain through their morning organ that they were only in fun after all when they gave the Chinese notice to quit or be slaughtered. Workingman White is a deep one. What he was after was to find out who sympathizes with the Workingmen, and who did not. It was a profound scheme to feel the political pulse. Paper bullets are to be fired into the ballot box when the time comes, instead of leaden bullets into Mongolian carcasses.

THE VIOLENT SPEECHES,

the dispatch of couriers to Virginia and the outlying wood camps to incite the workmen to come down and help expel the heathen, were all part of this clever plot to make the thieves in broadcloth show their hands. And when the people thought they were in earnest and organized to keep rioters, thieves and incendiaries in check, Workingman White and his co-conspirators met together and laughed till the tears rolled down their cheeks at the success of their sly little game. What a fool every respectable man in Reno must feel himself at this humiliating revelation of the morning organ. The GAZETTE reporter positively blushes with mortification as he writes these lines, to think that he really imagined that he saw the town filled with tramps (part of the Workingman White plot too), and that the decent men of the town walking around all night to keep their property from being burned. Workingman White has reason to be proud of the effect it had on the town when the people really believed that he and his friends intended to act up to their noble principles. Really, it is impossible not to join in Workingman White's laughter, even although it is turned against ourselves.

ANOTHER PRACTICAL JOKER.

It reminds one of the man who jumped out on the sidewalk and shoted:

"Come on, ye derned cowards! I kin lick any man in town! Show yer spunk if ye've got any, dern yer! Whoop! I'm turned loose, I am!"

Then another man walked out on the sidewalk and caught the bad man by the throat, and shook him, and the bad man, when he got a little breath, said:

"Let go a feller, can't ye? I was only foolin'. He, he! Dern it, can't ve take a joke? I didn't mean to fight nobody. He, he!"

Now, while everybody will be quite willing to believe that so shrewd a political leader as Workingman White knew perfectly well what he was about when he was out-doing Kearney in incendiary talk, on Sunday night, and didn't mean a word of it, it would interest the public to know if that quiet, humble Christian gentleman, was also engaged in deceiving the foolish public at that meeting of pretended incendiaries? Because if he was, Brother Wellman developed talents as an actor that would pay him infinitely better on the legitimate stage than as a performer in anti-Coolie melodeons. A GAZETTE reporter has had a talk with Colonel Richardson, who was present at that meeting, and the Colonel says that good brother Wellman was about the most violent person in the crowd. To quote the Colonel's own emphatic words: "He made remarks which I considered entirely uncalled for, and I remonstrated with the Chairman against them. In my opinion Wellman was about half drunk or a crazy fool for talking as he did."

One can hardly believe his own eyes and ears when looking upon the actions or listening to the fiery speeches of these political humorists, so that it is quite possible that Brother Wellman was helping out the immense joke of Workingman White, which roused all Reno and nearly cost the jokers their necks.

Sad Railroad Accident.

A dispatch from Pittsburg, Pa., dated the 6th instant, states that the fast line on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad, which left that city at 11:45 Tuesday night, met with a terrible accident at a point one and a half miles west of Mingo Junction, Ohio. At 1 A. M. at the point named, the fast passenger, which was twenty minutes behind time and running at the rate of forty miles an hour, collided with a freight train. The entire train, with the exception of the hotel car and sleepers, was thrown from the track and fearfully wrecked. Eleven or twelve persons are reported killed and from fifteen to twenty seriously wounded. No names have yet been received. A private dispatch informs Joseph McCormish, of Glendale, that his wife, daughter, and the daughter's two children, on their way hence from Scotland, were among the passengers. Mrs. McCormish was uninjured, but the daughter and her two little ones were badly hurt. Whether the injuries of any were fatal or not has not yet been learned.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup!

—OF—

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The Inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:—

Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhœa,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the Heart, SUFFOCATING FEELINGS caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes.

Indigestiveness and habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the JOINTS and MUSCLES, IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD, and INWARD WASTINGS may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of Hopophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty in every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public

This syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from want of MUSCULAR ACTION and NERVOUS FORCE.

Sold by all Druggists.

Price $1 50 per bottle or six bottles for $7 50

All sufferers from this disease that are anxious to be cured should try Dr. Kissner's Celebrated Consumptive Powders. These Powders are the only preparation known that will cure Consumption and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs—indeed, so strong is our faith in them, and also to convince you that they are no humbug, we will forward to every sufferer, by mail, post paid, a free Trial Box.

We don't want your money until you are perfectly satisfied of their curative powers. If your life is worth saving, don't delay in giving these Powders a trial, as they will surely cure you.
